

This exciting one-day conference and its talks/workshops offer you an opportunity to update technical knowledge, skills, and further your career development... it's perfect for CPD! It will also provide valuable networking opportunities to engage and learn from other technical personnel.

The Institute of Science & Technology One-day Technical Conference 2017

14th September 2017
Mercure Grand Hotel, Leicester

The conference will be of specific interest to technical, specialist, and technical manager colleagues who work in a broad range of environments such as science, engineering, arts, media, IT, industry, local authorities, schools, FE, HE, research/analytical/health facilities, and government departments.

Keynote Speakers include:

Professor Anu Ojha, Director UK's National Space Academy programme and a Director of the National Space Centre, Leicester

Dr Turi King, Geneticist, University of Leicester: The King's DNA analysis in the Richard III identification project

Plus 15 talks/workshops, organised in three sessions throughout the day, where you can choose from 5 exciting topics in each session. Workshops include:

- Professional Registration: Help completing an application
- Labcoats in Hollywood
- Health and Safety
- Developing Design Consultants of the Future
- Dr Helen Sharman OBE, FRSC: Defining IST's Future
- Flavour and Seasoning Creation
- Molecular Biology to Synthetic Biology: What's new

Delegate costs - 'Early Bird' discounted rates

- £40 - IST member
- £45 - non-member
- £40 - Groups of 6 or more (members and/or non-members)

Early Bird discounted rates finish on 21st July, so book early to keep costs as low as possible.

Further details and the booking form are available on our website

<https://istonline.org.uk>

For enquiries please contact:

Email: wendymason@istonline.org.uk
Tel: 0114 276 3197

Wendy Mason, Administrator
Institute of Science and Technology
90 Rockingham Street | Sheffield | S1 4EB

KEY SPONSOR

ELGA VEOLIA IOP Institute of Physics

LaboratoryNews

