

Darkness Dwellers
How to make a character from a stick

Stick people are a winner. They provide a creative design and technology challenge for both girls and boys, and great inspiration for play and story building.

They can either be made out of a straight or forked stick; with a drawn face, or a clay head. Their clothes can be entirely collected from the natural environment – or created from scraps with a bit of 'bling'.

Pipe cleaners, elastic bands and clay are useful resources for securing body parts and costumes.
