

Engineers use their knowledge and experience of mathematics to find solutions to problems.

How could you measure the stretchiness of a jelly sweet?

- Will all jelly sweets have the same stretchiness?
- How could you set up your experiment?
- What data could you collect?
- How could you analyse the data?

What factors could affect the stretchiness?